What does the Church teach?
On Miscarriage, the unbaptized and salvation.

Catechism 1259-61
1261-As regards children who have died without Baptism, the Church can only entrust them to the mercy of God, as she does in her funeral rites for them. Indeed, the great mercy of God who desires that all men should be saved, and Jesus' tenderness toward children which caused him to say: 'Let the children come to me, do not hinder them,' allow us to hope that there is a way of salvation for children who have died without Baptism.

There is also an understanding of "baptism by desire" (cf. Catechism, no. 1259-60) in which it is taught that people who die while unbaptized are supposed to have been baptized by their "explicit desire" to receive this sacrament. This may also apply to children whose parents intended to baptize their child after birth.

"The local ordinary can permit children whom the parents intended to baptize but who died before baptism to be given ecclesiastical funerals." Canon Law 1183.2

Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I dedicated you, a prophet to the nations I appointed you. Jeremiah 1:5.

The Funeral Rite for Infants is for any child, regardless of age. It is not required that you have a funeral, but the option is open to you, at any length of pregnancy.

You may request a funeral and/or burial service with your parish priest if you have your child's body; if not, or if the death occurred some time ago, you are still welcome to ask for a memorial service. Support in these ways can help you get through this difficult time.

Please speak with Fr. Shiju for additional information or questions.
